

A MATTER OF TASTE

ELEGANCE REDEFINED

Gundel is famed throughout Hungary for its elegance and sophistication, and this restaurant's exquisite dishes, fine china and refined hospitality will linger in your memory for years. Try one of their incredible tasting menus – your taste buds will love you for it, even if your waistband doesn't!

GYPSY BRILLIANCE

Classic but informal bistro dining – that's the Rézkakas tradition. The menu features some Hungarian classics, and the wine list is superb. And with a trio of brilliant gypsy musicians to accompany your meal, this is one evening you won't forget.

DINE WITH A VIEW

Serving home baked bread and exquisite dishes cooked in a traditional oven, Búsuló Juhász delivers a taste of Hungarian culinary genius. But more than that, it offers the most beautiful views of Budapest from its panoramic windows and terrace. Just perfect for a romantic evening.

A SIGHT TO BEHOLD

CLIMB THE CASTLE

Stroll the Chain Bridge across the Danube, take the funicular up Castle Hill and you'll have the chance to explore an incredible range of fascinating buildings. In addition to the castle itself, there's the Gothic glory of Matthias Church, the seven towers of the Fisherman's Bastion, and the Hungarian National Gallery.

ISLAND PARADISE

With its landscaped parks, rose gardens and tree-lined walks, Margaret Island is the place to visit if you want to escape the city for an hour or two. There are even medieval ruins and a small zoo to explore, and plenty of little cafés where you can relax with a drink and a view of the river.

CRUISE THE DANUBE

Take to a river boat and you'll see Budapest in a different light, and many of the evening cruises feature thrilling sound and vision shows. Famous (virtual) personalities will tell their stories, and TV screens on the boats will let you see through the walls of the buildings you pass. Magical!

A PARTING GIFT

SOPHISTICATED TREASURES

Falk Miksa Utca is the street to visit if you want to browse fine art galleries and shops, and one of the best is Pintér. Behind its unassuming façade is a treasure house of furniture, paintings, sculpture, chandeliers and carpets. And that's not all – visit for yourself and prepare to be amazed.

GET THE FLEA MARKET BUG

For a more down-to-earth shopping experience, head down to the colourful Petofi Csarnok flea market. There are stalls selling vintage clothing, cameras, musical instruments, jewellery and memorabilia from the days of Communist rule, and if you need refuelling, plenty of places to buy food and drink.

PERFECTION IN PAPER

Bomo Art is an exquisite jewel of a shop, and specialises in handmade stationery, old-fashioned pens and writing accessories. Their leather bound notebooks, diaries and journals make perfect luxury gifts, and are so beautiful it seems a shame to write in them!
