ENRICHING EXPERIENCES FOR OUR GUESTS AND OUR ENVIRONMENT

We believe that a responsible meeting is not only what you experience in the meeting room but also knowing that your hotel respects the destination around it.

We're proud to partner with the leaders in geotourism, the National Geographic Center for Sustainable Destinations. Our ambition is that guests enjoy enriching experiences that reveal what makes a place truly special – its heritage, culture and tradition – and the importance of protecting it.

At InterContinental we use a holistic approach to being a responsible business: to work from the grass roots up, recognising each individual hotel team as the experts best placed to use their local knowledge for developing community and environmental initiatives that meet the specific needs of the destination. This Insider Collection gives delegates access to some of these unique experiences, and for those meetings that stay in the meeting room, you can be assured our hotel is working behind the scenes to protect what is special about the place for fellow travellers.

CULTURAL FIJI

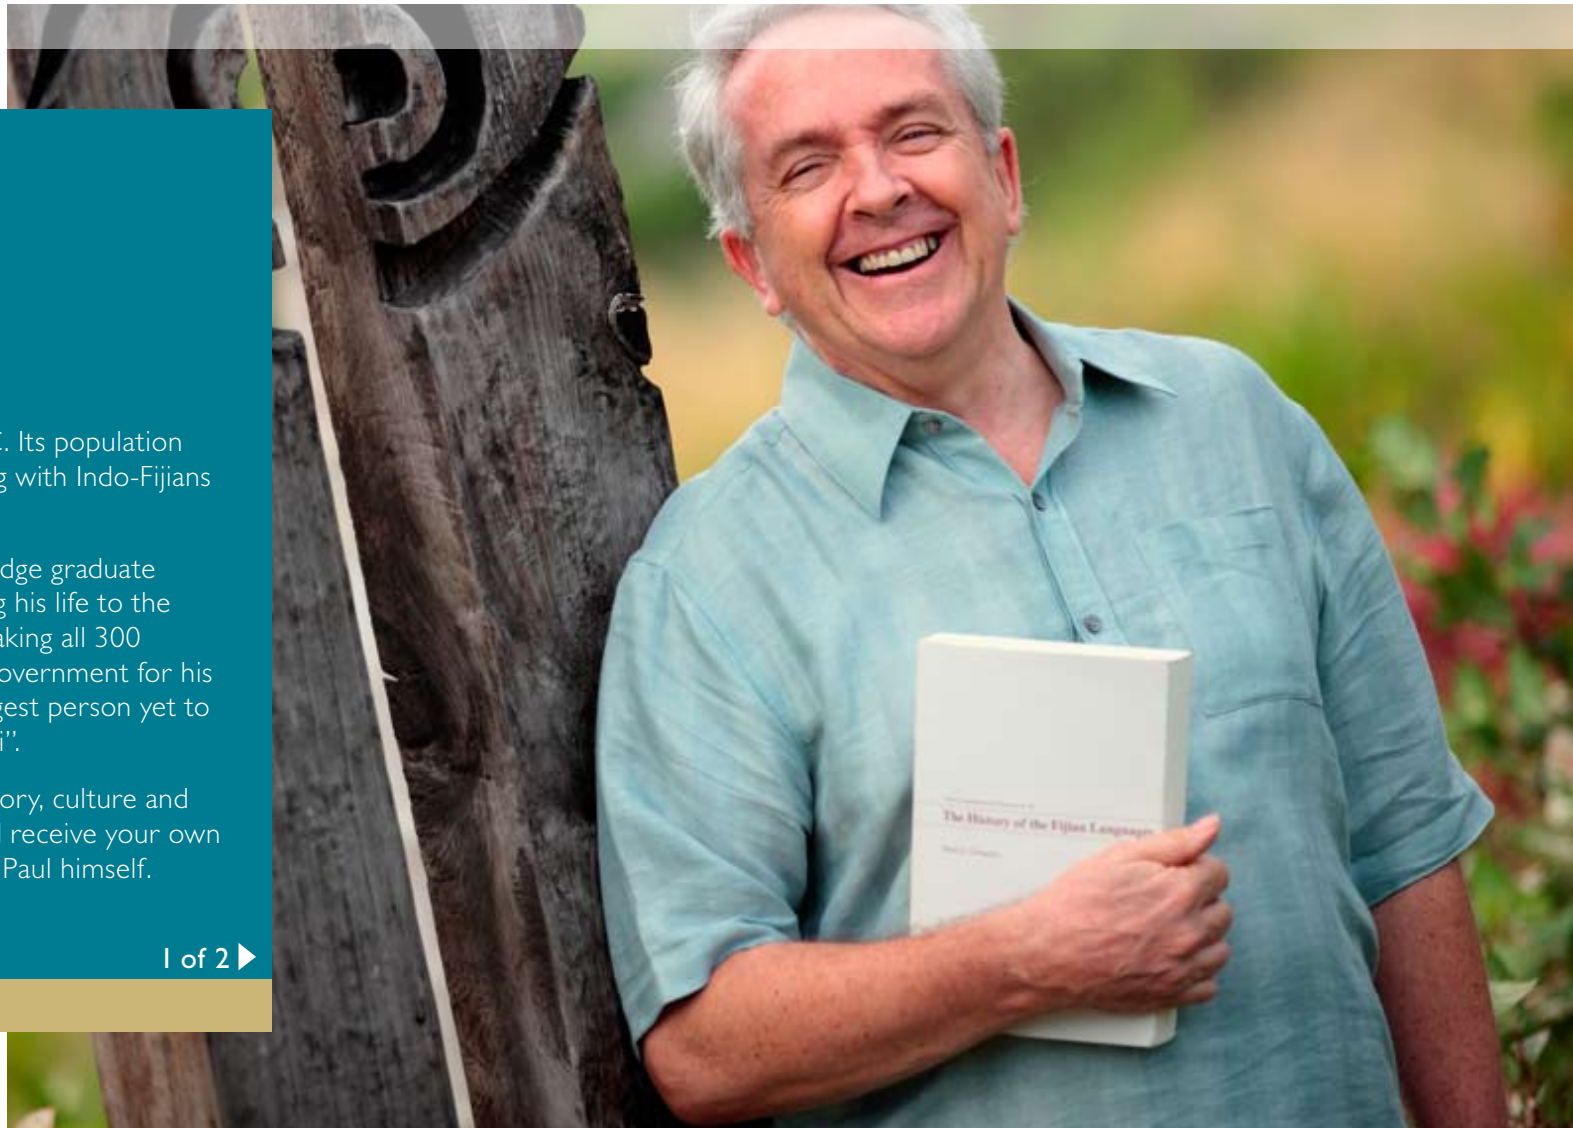

Fiji was first inhabited around 3500 – 1000 BC. Its population today is predominantly Melanesian (54%) along with Indo-Fijians who make up 38%.

Associate Professor Paul Geraghty is a Cambridge graduate who has lived in Fiji for over 20 years, devoting his life to the documentation of the Fijian language, and speaking all 300 dialects. He has been honoured by the Fijian government for his services to the Fijian language, being the youngest person yet to receive the award “Officer of the Order of Fiji”.

Discover Paul's fascinating insights into the history, culture and customs of Fiji, including early cannibalism, and receive your own pocket guide to the Fijian language, written by Paul himself.

And the seas are perpetually warm ranging from 26°C in July to 31°C in January at 5 metres depth.

PROTECT THE NATADOLA BAY REEF

Protected by a reef to create an aqua-blue ocean-facing lagoon, Natadola Bay was voted by Forbes Magazine in 2008 as one of the 25 best beaches in the world. InterContinental Fiji Golf Resort & Spa is the sole destination resort on Natadola Bay – the only stretch of natural white sand on the main island of Viti Levu. We are working with our local village, Sanasana, as well as the team from Reef Safari, to create a marine reserve and fish houses to preserve the environment. In doing this we seek to ensure a sustainable fishing future for the local village, as well as ensuring a quality diving or snorkeling experience for guests.

Your conference group may wish to join us in a half day of coral planting or clam planting, as we seek to ensure the preservation of this precious resource.

PARTICIPATE IN AN AUTHENTIC FIJIAN “SEVUSEVU”

The sevusevu is an important ritual in Fijian culture; it's a ceremonial offering of kava. Kava, also known as “yaqona”, is classed as one of the most popular drinks in the Fiji Islands. It serves the purpose of being both the traditional and non-traditional drink among the chiefs, villages and local communities. If you enter a village, you must arrive with the sevusevu (gift of kava).

The use of kava confirms to a protocol amongst the local community. In most cases the kava is made in a “tanoa” (large wooden bowl) and served in a “bilo” (coconut half shell).

It is said that sitting around the kava bowl helps people relax and banter with each other in a spirit of cooperation – an ideal teambuilding activity!
